

THREE PRODUCTIVE SANDS ARE FOUND IN BARBOURVILLE POOL.

By R. W. CARROLL.
(Tulsa, Okla., Oil and Gas Journal)

The Oil and Gas fields of Barbourville in Knox County, Ky., are attracting considerable interest. Many well-known producers have visited the field and they now have representatives here who are taking up territory. Practically all the favorably located land in the County has been leased and values are advancing.

Barbourville was the scene of considerable field activity in 1901 and 1902 and 1903, but the bringing in of the Spindletop or Beaumont, Tex., field with the largest gushers then known in this country, caused ruinous declines in the prices of crude petroleum, which sold down to five cents per bbl. and less. As a consequence of the very low price of crude, drilling operations were suspended in the Barbourville field, and the producing wells were abandoned.

At that time many of the wells in this field were giving good average yields, for shallow and inexpensive wells, and had it not been for prices going to the lowest point ever known in the trade, the Barbourville field would doubtless have been thoroughly developed.

At the time of suspension of operation here, the producing wells are said to have been averaging from three to ten bbls., while some were doing 15 bbls. or more daily. Barbourville, like many other fields in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and other States, after being abandoned owing to the low markets, has recently attracted the favorable attention of practical and old-time operators, many of whom now predict a bright and profitable future for the field.

Some of them expect it to prove more highly productive than Irvine—which like Barbourville was abandoned for years, but since the comparatively recent revival of operations, the Irvine field has made millions of dollars for those who were fortunate enough to secure holdings there.

Barbourville is in the southeastern part of Kentucky and in the carboniferous measures which as is well known, have been the most uniformly regular and productive of the oil and natural gas bearing strata. In this field, three productive sands are found; the Jones at 350 feet, the Epperon at 800 feet and the Big Injun between 1,300 and 1,400 feet. Some good wells have been found in the Jones; more in the Epperon, while in the Big Injun gas has been found. One well in this sand has steadily supplied the town of Barbourville with gas for heat, lights and manufacturing for over eight years past, and still doing so. One well located northeast of Barbourville found oil in the Big Injun sand and it was estimated good for two bbls. But few tests have been made below the Big Injun, and it is confidently believed that underlying it will be found the Gordon, Gantz, Thirty-Foot and other very rich and highly productive sands, which in Pennsylvania and West Virginia were discovered underneath the Big Injun sand, and made many leases immensely valuable. In fact, the Big Injun and underlying sands were the ones which yielded hundred of large fortunes in the states named. Good sands in some places 180 feet thick in the Barbourville field were found but were barren. Probably in these heavy sands, oil will yet be discovered and they will prove exceedingly rich in yields.

Wells in the shallow sands of the Barbourville field can be drilled with small outlays, and the deep tests below the Big Injun will cost only a fraction of the outlay required in many other fields for drilling to equivalent depth, as the formations are not hard to drill and but little casing is required since not much water is found below the shallow depths. The almost impassable conditions of the roads have seriously retarded operations, but there are four wells now drilling and a number of drilling outfits have been ordered for shipment here. With the return of Spring, operations will be very active with co-incident large advances in the values of leases.

The Barbourville oil is light in gravity and high in quality, grading with Somerset, which is now commanding $2.18 per bbl. As this oil is considered practically equal commercially to the petroleum produced in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, it is highly probable that with the completion of two refineries in Kentucky now under contract, Barbourville crude will bring the same prices as that of the two States named. There is now no refinery in Kentucky, which accounts for this high grade crude not bringing fair prices. With the shallow sands assuring good profits and the strong probability that large production will be obtained in the Big Injun and deeper sands, it is not improbable that Barbourville may yet prove to be the richest in yield and therefore the most probable oil and natural gas field in Kentucky.

High School News.

This Monday, the attendance-punctuality banner was awarded to Prof. Mills' room, the freshman and juniors. This is the first time they have gained the banner but they are determined that it shall not be the last time. Let's see who gets it next week! Below are the general averages for the week as they rank:

Prof. Mills	98.10
Miss Pelly	96.49
Prof. Faulkner	95.93
Miss Barton	94.60
Prof. Oldfield	93.60
Miss Parker	93.54
Miss Prater	92.60

From the above, can be seen that the general average of the entire school is above 95 percent.

The program given by Miss Pelly's room, the second and the third grades, last Thursday evening was quite a success, and we wish to thank the citizens and patrons for their hearty co-operation. The proceeds will be used for buying some necessary equipment for their room. Five large handsome pictures, a bookcase and thirty supplementary readers have already been ordered.

The Old Paper campaign is rapidly progressing. Already about 800 pounds of paper, magazines and other old paper have been collected. The stores, printing office and public firms have responded heartily and we thank them and ask them to continue saving paper for us. Now, will not everybody who has old papers and magazines which are in their way at home, phone and let us know about it and we will only too gladly remove it? How many pounds can we collect this week?

Big Lot Sale.

The Louisville Real Estate & Development Co., of Louisville, have purchased of Mr. H. H. Owens that tract of land in the Eastern part of Barbourville fronting on the Dixie Highway and Boone Trail. This company has its representatives on the ground developing it and have made great improvements on this land. Good lots in Barbourville are scarce, and this land lays high and dry, therefore it is in great demand. This land will be sold at public auction, Thursday, March 29th at 10 a. m. One lot will be given away free, and special prizes will be given the ladies. Barbourville's famous Red Men's Band will furnish the music. For full particulars see the back page of this edition.

Saturday and Sunday, March 24th and 25th, will be inspection day at Boone Heights. Go out and look over Boone Heights; hundreds have already visited this location and marked it with approval. The majority of the business houses have agreed to close their doors on the day of the lot sale from 10 a. m. until noon. Do your shopping early and join the big crowd that is going to the lot sale.

Fine Display of Millinery

Last Monday was opening day in the new styles of Spring hats at the millinery store of Misses Sallie Hoskins and Laura Hays, and a beautiful array of hats was on display. Several hundred ladies of this city as well as a number from Artemus, Warren, Manchester, Pineville, Middlesboro and Corbin visited the store during the day, and the sale of hats surpassed, by far, any previous opening days of the twenty years this firm has been in business. All during the afternoon and evening the colored orchestra of this city rendered delightful music, while ice cream was served to all visitors.

FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

Under the provisions of the "Federal Farm Loan Act" there has been organized in this city The Knox County National Farm Loan Association. The object of the association will be to loan money to farmers on first mortgages for a term of from five to forty years and at a rate of interest which, it is believed, will not exceed five per cent.

This is a great opportunity for the farmers of Knox County to pay off old debts, improve their farms by erecting new buildings and fences, buying more and better stock, building silos, purchasing fertilizer, etc.

The officers elected were: J. A. McDermott, Pres., W. W. Evans, Sec. and Treas. The Directors are: J. A. McDermott, W. W. Evans, S. R. Lawson, John H. Riley, A. J. Ferguson, J. V. Parker and John T. Black. The loan committee is composed of S. R. Lawson, A. J. Ferguson and John H. Riley.

Worth While

In last week's issue of Our Age, a leading magazine and trade journal devoted to this industry, of New York, of great prominence is awarded an article translated from the Spanish language into English by Prof. C. Brittain Lytle, Barbourville teacher of Spanish, aided by one of his advanced pupils, with reference to recent reports of the department of geology in Colombia, South America regarding extensive deposits of gold, platinum, coal and other valuable minerals in that country, probably the richest in America of natural resources. In future the feature of employing his most advanced pupils in aiding with work of this character and, having the generous remuneration awarded will have even greater prominence in Prof. Lytle's educational system than it has been given heretofore.

Improving Hickory Plant

The T. W. Minton & Son Hickory Mills here are making several important improvements to their plant. They are building additional warehouses, installing another 150 horse-power boiler, and three more large machines, which will greatly increase their efficiency and output in all departments. The work of building and installing the additional machinery is not in any way interfering with the operations of the mill in their spoke and dowel departments, which are running full time. When improvements are completed they will employ 40 to 50 men.

The first car of logs was received over the new railroad last Monday. They were a fine bunch of the best hickory to be found.

Extra Session Called.

Washington, D. C. March 21—President Wilson today called Congress in extra session on April 2. The purpose of this early special session is to take action on the state of war which admittedly exists between the United States and Germany. Congress will probably be asked to declare that a state of war exists since some recent date when German submarines began conducting the most warlike operations against American commerce.

The Tuesday Club.

The Age of Sanitation

This is the age of sanitation, especially in the manufacture of foods.

And none is more particular about sanitation and cleanliness than the careful Mrs. Housewife.

She is daily growing more cautious about the foodstuffs she buys, and she makes it her important duty to learn, if possible, the various methods of manufacture practiced in the factories of everything she buys.

The food article that cannot be traced her that its methods of production are absolutely above reproach, can find no place in her home. A manufacturer has lost for her the careful woman as a customer.

She knows so much about sanitation and the pure food regulation that she has at last awakened to its full importance.

She cannot be too cautious in her investigations of such food products as canned goods, Baking Powder, etc.

There is one Baking Powder manufacturer, for instance, whose factory doors are always open to the careful housewife.

If you could visit this plant, the largest and most sanitary in the world, where Calumet Baking Powder is made, you would be amazed at the wonderful cleanliness of everything and every employee.

In this, the world's most modern Baking Powder Plant, every movement in Calumet's manufacture is done by spotless machinery. No human hand ever touches the Baking Powder and it reaches you absolutely pure.

INCREASED ACTIVITY NOTED IN THE ERECTION OF BUILDINGS.

With the coming of Spring and good weather, there will be increased activity in all lines of business in Barbourville especially in the erection of buildings.

The large lot adjoining the Post Office has been divided into four nice lots and on them will be erected four business houses by H. W. Bowman, Hinkle & Walker, A. W. Hopper, and Dr. J. S. Lock. Brick and other building material are being placed on the lots now and within a few weeks will be seen the completion of these buildings which will complete the block from the Public Square to Walnut street. These buildings, of uniform height, will add greatly to the appearance of that part of the city. The lot fronting these lots and across the twelve-foot walk, which extends from the Public Square to Walnut street, is the property of L. M. Cole and W. H. Detharage on which these gentlemen are contemplating the erection of a three-story brick building. John M. Tinsley will erect a three-story brick on the corner of Public Square and River street, to take the place of the wooden structure recently destroyed by fire.

S. B. Dishman is having the rubbish removed from the lot on the corner of Walnut and High street, where fire recently destroyed the Dishman Flats, preparatory to erecting a three-story apartment building. C. B. Parrot has begun the erection of modern fire-proof garage, this week, on the corner of Main and Wall streets. The L. C. Miller building on the South side of Public Square is nearing completion and Mr. Miller is preparing to move his stock of goods in and purchase more goods to fill this large building.

A number of residences will also be built this Spring and Summer. An empty house is hard to find in Barbourville, and with the development of the oil fields in this county, the increase in population will justify the erection of a business house or residence on every vacant lot in the city.

Expect A Good Producer

It is said that another well is about to be completed on the Payne farm and great interest is manifested over this one as two good wells have been drilled in on this farm. If the one now about to be finished proves to be a good producer there will be a scramble for territory in that section of the county.

Who Wants to be Jailor?

For three long weeks the doors of the Knox County Bastile has been resting upon its rusting hinges, and the time has come when it is a show to see a man under the influence of whiskey. You need not say that prohibition will not put jailers out of business, for it is plain that since Cumberland Gap, Tenn., has closed the doors of the whiskey traffic that there are fewer and fewer men who have it come to their addresses. It is harder to get so it is that the class of fellows who would indulge in a drink occasionally, have even had to refrain, from the fact that it is hard to get to. It is hoped that there will not be another man in the jail of Knox County for some time to come. Not that any one has any grievance toward our jailer, but he will join in the shouting if it came to pass that there is not another man put in jail during the year of 1917.

Some men think it is smart to get drunk and expose their ignorance, but if any man that gets drunk could only see himself as others see him, he would never do so again. The day was when there was nothing thought of it, but the day has come when even a saloon-keeper will not employ a man to deal out this stuff who gets drunk.

Will Win For Clerk

Ben H. Gregory, the peoples choice for the Republican nomination for County Court Clerk, is becoming popular with the voters throughout the county. The people are demanding such men as this young man for office. He comes as representative of a large family who have never held an office in this or any other county.

He comes before the people as a self-made man. A man who has done all kind of labor in order to get an education. He is a man who favors home schools, having received his education in the best institutions in southeastern Kentucky, the common schools, Union College and the Baptist Institute of Barbourville. Ben is one of Knox County's best citizens, a man who has at times been found fighting for the right. He is making this race upon his own merits as a clean, honest and sober man. When a call has been made in the Republican ranks he has always answered without hesitation. In the National campaign last fall he made speeches in many precincts in the county where he made many friends.

There has been much said in this race, many questions have been asked as to who is the leading man and sure winner. It is predicted that Ben H. Gregory will win by an overwhelming majority. He is making an active

For County Court Clerk

To the Voters of Knox County: I, after giving the matter due consideration and having seen and advised with many of my friends have come to the conclusion to enter the race for the Republican nomination for Clerk of the County Court of Knox County. I believe I am qualified to fill this position. I am 24 years old, was born and reared in this county and all of my life have lived in the county of my nativity. I, nor any of my people have ever asked or received an office at the hands of the people of Knox County.

I enter the race with the determination and intention to run the race through. I have no ill will toward any of my opponents. I have no bad words to say. I shall run the race on my own merits and not the demerits of my opponents.

I will try to see each voter before the election. Thanking you in advance for any favors shown me. I am,

Respectfully yours,
S. K. HALE.

A Safe Test.

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Barbourville people.

Mrs. Bertha Steele, Pitzer street, Barbourville, says: "My back was so weak I could hardly do anything and I felt run down and miserable. My ankles and limbs were swollen and the action of my kidneys was irregular. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Costello Drug Company, and they helped me, relieving the backaches and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

Keep Me at the Jail.

In the making up of the ticket for the various County offices, there should be taken into consideration all of a man's qualifications. If I am not qualified to fill the office I seek I should be defeated. I have been tried and the question is, am I the right man? Have I given satisfaction? Have I kept the trust confided in me by the people of my beloved County?

Knox County gave me my birth; I have never lived anywhere else and in the bosom of Knox County will be my last resting place. I love its ever stream, where the finny family dwell; its beautiful mountain sides, where lives the best citizens in the whole world; its trees from which the tiny birds give their praise to the God who made them and gave to mankind to cheer him when he has the "blues"; but above all I love the friends and neighbors who stood by me when I was elected to this place. I do not want to harass my friends with long winded speeches, but to say to them through the columns of the Advocate that I appreciate their support in the past, and to ask them to retain me at the Jail for another term and I guarantee them I will never ask for another office in Knox County.

I want to make a clean race, one upon my record and merits, not upon the demerits of any opponent I have. We all have our faults and all make mistakes, some perhaps more than others, but let the past be forgotten as to the bad deeds, and let us cherish the good deeds of all, so that when we shall come to the end of this campaign we may have no regret at anything we may have said of one of those who have been elected or those defeated.

I am in this race and by the help of God and the will of the people I will win. And when I shall have won the race, it will then be seen that I have fought a clean fight and no mud slinging has been begun by me.

To the Voters of Magisterial District No. 1. I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for Justice of the Peace, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 4, 1917.

I shall do all I can to at once complete the pikes and roads of Knox County and to put a stop to the terrible waste of the peoples money. I shall do all in my power to the already burdensome tax rate in Knox County.

I will make it my whole duty to see that a claim will not be allowed unless the tax payers receive something in return for their money. I was born and reared among you. You know me, my people and my past record.

I will thank you for your support in this race, assuring you that I feel the responsibility of the position, but assuring you that I will do my whole duty.

Georgette crepe and gold colored pongees just in at Englands—Big dots and blocks in the pongees—The latest.

Mrs. E. E. Sawyers and son, of Barbourville, were here a few days this week visiting Mrs. Otto Brown—M-joro Three States.

Oil! Oil! Oil! It is going to be so greasy around Barbourville within the next six months that it will be dangerous to strike a match.

Dr. Stringfield and Mr. Shaffner, who are connected with the Central Oil Co., returned to their home in Chicago Saturday. They will return soon with lots of money and machinery.

Dr. W. C. Black, of Barbourville, was in this city last Tuesday on business. The Dr. is very much impressed with Middlesboro and is thinking of locating here. —M-joro, Ky. Three States.

A. M. Decker, the veteran drummer, who has represented Swann-Abram Hat Co., for over one third of a century, was out on the road last week and in his usual way took his old customers orders for Spring hats.

New Millinery at Englands. Just watch Englands' windows. Something new every day. This week we have been receiving the new striped silks, more new Spring cloaks and new hats besides a lot of other things. Come and see.

If you will keep your eye on the Advocate you can tell pretty well just who is going to be nominated at the August primary. The man that advertises is always the man who lands the persimmon. It is just like any other business you have got to let the people know who you are, what you want and why you want it.

The many friends of Mr. P. M. Marsee, of Warren, Ky., will be surprised to hear of his engagement to Miss Audrey Warren, of West Huntsville, Ala. The young couple will be quietly married in Alabama and then return to Warren, O., where Mr. Marsee has a nice position with the General Electric Lamp Works. We wish them much happiness.

Last Saturday was St. Patrick's day, a few at least that was not ashamed that he was a descendant of some son of Erin, donned some kind of a memento. Some of the boys wore the three leaves of the shamrock, others had on the green tie, while some of the ladies had quiet a lot of green in evidence. Mrs. J. A. McDermott was the most patriotic of all. She had her automobile decorated in green and drove through the city with a party of friends. Who is not proud of being an American citizen and that he had Irish blood coursing his veins.

Thursday, March 29th, 10 A. M.

Barbourville, the County Seat, and Most Progressive City in Knox County.

Barbourville stands out pre-eminently as one of the most progressive little cities in South-eastern Kentucky. Located on the L. & N. R. R. and the recently completed C. & M. R. R. and surrounded by rich farming lands, coal and timber, and at this present time, large oil wells are being opened up. Oil men from all over the country, representing the largest Oil Companies in the country, are here investing in thousands of acres of land. There is no question of doubt but that Knox County will furnish her share of the oil of Kentucky. Barbourville is equipped with two good, substantial banks, first-class High School, two Colleges, up-to-date merchants, carrying well-selected stocks, whose well-kept stores are unexcelled in cities of larger size, good churches, court house, electric light plant with 24 hour service, fine water and sewerage systems, and miles of cement walks. With all these essentials at her command, makes a combination producing every essential element for building a city of still greater magnitude of bigger possibilities, and a most attractive place to live.

The Opportunities Boone Heights Offers.

To the home-seeker or investor here is one grand opportunity to purchase a nicely located lot in Boone Heights. High and dry, no overflow, each and every lot a beauty-spot. Now is the time to buy. Don't wait and pay the other man a profit, use your own judgment. Real estate in Barbourville has doubled within the last ten years, and keep this in mind—when the oil fields are fully developed in and around Barbourville, real estate will go out of sight just as it did in Irvin, Ky., where, within six months time, land doubled and doubled again. Boost your own town and be in position to reap some of the profit that all men make who wisely invest in real estate. The safest thing on earth is earth itself.

Special Offer

With each lot sold will be given the privilege of the next one, two or three lots at the same price each, thus allowing the purchaser to regulate the size of his purchase without competitive bidding against himself. A decided advantage to the purchaser, original with this firm and the only company within our knowledge permitting this privilege.
